

ABOUT THE CONTRIBUTORS

Emilie GALLEZ was born in Uccle, Brussels. She is a research fellow at the Institute of Human and Social Sciences at the University of Liège, Belgium. She holds a Master's degree in population and development science from the Free University of Brussels (2009), and was responsible during 2010-2011 for managing and coordinating research on the reform of local justice in Katanga, Democratic Republic of Congo. She currently resides in Lubumbashi.

Benjamin RUBBERS is Assistant Professor at the University of Liège and senior lecturer at the Free University of Brussels, Belgium. He holds a PhD in anthropology from the Free University of Brussels and the Ecole des Hautes Etudes en Sciences sociales (France). For ten years he has been studying economic and social change as it affects the industrial region of Haut-Katanga in the Democratic Republic of Congo. He is particularly interested in issues relating to work, business, and public administration. His recent publications include: Faire fortune en Afrique. Anthropologie des derniers colons du Katanga. Paris: Karthala (2009); 'The Story of a Tragedy. How People in Haut-Katanga Interpret the Post-colonial History of Congo.' Journal of Modern African Studies 47(2): 267-289 (2009); "'We, The Congolese, We Cannot Trust Each Other.'" Trust, Norms and Relations among Traders in Katanga, Democratic Republic of Congo.' British Journal of Sociology 60(3): 623-642 (2009); 'Claiming Workers' Rights in the Democratic Republic of Congo: The Case of the Collectif des ex-agents de la Gécamines.' Review of African Political Economy 37: 329-344 (2010). Contact: rubbersbe@yahoo.fr.

Sangeeta SHARMIN is currently a solicitor at the Department of Immigration and Citizenship, Australia. She completed her Bachelor of Laws/Bachelor of Science (Psychology) degree from the Australian National University in 2010 and is currently studying for her Masters in Law (specializing in International Law). Her interests lie in human rights, refugee law, international criminal law and sharia law. Contact: sangeeta.sharmin@anu.edu.au

Hubert TREIBER is Professor emeritus of Administrative Sciences (Verwaltungswissenschaften) at the Leibniz University of Hanover, Germany. He is a social scientist who has worked in a Faculty of Law. He has published widely on Max Weber and worked on Friedrich Nietzsche and Paul Rée. He has also published in the field of public administration, the implementation of law, and the history of science. In 1986/87 he was Jean-Monnet Fellow at the European University Institute, Florence. In 1991 he was awarded a scholarship by the Beinecke Rare Manuscript Library/ Yale University Library. In April 2000 the 'Deutsche Vereinigung für Rechtssoziologie' (German Society for the Sociology of Law) awarded him the national 'Law and Society' prize, endowed by the Christa-Hoffmann-Riem Foundation, and intended to promote 'the useful application of social science research in legal connections'.

His books include: (ed. with Karol Sauerland) Heidelberg im Schnittpunkt intellektueller Kreise, 1995; (with Leonie Breunung) Die Vollzugsorganisation als Entscheidungsfaktor des Verwaltungshandelns, 2000; (with Gerd Grasshoff) Naturgesetz und Naturrechtsdenken im 17. Jahrhundert, 2002; (ed. and commentator) Paul Rée: Gesammelte Werke 1875-1885, Supplementa Nietzscheana 7, 2004; (with Heinz Steinert) Die Fabrikation des zuverlässigen Menschen. Ueber die ‚Wahlverwandtschaft‘ von Kloster- und Fabrikdisziplin, 2005; (with Leonie Breunung) Recht als Handlungsressource kommunaler Industrieansiedlungspolitik. Zum Gebrauch und Verzicht von Recht bei ungleicher Machtverteilung, 2005.

Details of his academic career and the complete list of his publications are to be found at: [http://www.jura.uni-hannover.de/person.html?no\_cache=1&tx\_tkt3hislsf\_pi2\[perid\]=28482](http://www.jura.uni-hannover.de/person.html?no_cache=1&tx_tkt3hislsf_pi2[perid]=28482) and <http://www.jura.uni-hannover.de/627.html>.
Contact: treiber@vww.uni-hannover.de.

Melanie G. WIBER is Professor of Anthropology at the University of New Brunswick, Fredericton, Canada, and currently Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Legal Pluralism. For further details see the Journal of Legal Pluralism nr. 64.
Contact: wiber@unb.ca.